

DEUTSCH IST KOOL!

LEARN GERMAN WITH YOUR LOCAL GERMANS

Do you want to know what Gesundheit, Zeitgeist, Angst, Fahrvergnügen, or Schadenfreude mean? What's the deal with the tapeworm words, anyway? And why do they insist on these weird dots über the u?

Deutsche Schule im Delaware Saengerbund invites everybody interested in German language and culture to attend classes in the 2011/12 school year:

Did you know that the real Disney castle is in Germany? Neuschwanstein (NewSwanStone) Castle in Bavaria, which served as an inspiration for Sleeping Beauty Castle in the Disney logo. It was built in 1876 by King Ludwig II., who was said to be crazy because he built expensive castles at a time when castle building was practically over. But Neuschwanstein turned out to be one of the best investments Bavaria ever made, with 1.3 million visitors each year.

WHO?

Students 5-17 years old, currently, we have three age groups: 5-7, 8-11, 12-17 years

WHERE?

Delaware Saengerbund & Library Association
49 Salem Church Rd
Newark, DE 19713

WHEN?

Most Sundays, 2-4pm,
from 09/25/2011 to 05/06/2012

SIGN UP BY: 09/19/2011

WHY?

Become conversational in German, learn about German culture, have an option to obtain school credit (depending on agreement with your school)

HOW?

- 1) Sign up for an info session at your school, or
- 2) Contact Richard Grieb, School Director, rgrieb@weichert.com, Cell: 1.484.802.3218, or Andreas Lehmann, School Coordinator, andreas.lehmann@alumni.tu-berlin.de, Cell: 814.867.5432, or
- 3) Go to our website and download an application form at www.delawaresaengerbund.org

COST?

Registration: $150/student for non-members – ask about becoming a member!
Books: depending on age group, from $6 to approximately $80.